<input type="radio"/> CHAD MONTGOMERY REP	Constitutional Amendment C	PROPERTY TAX COST OF BONDS
Box Elder County Treasurer Vote for One	Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to have the office of county sheriff be elected by voters?	If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. Box Elder County Recorder Vote for One  <input type="radio"/> CHAD MONTGOMERY REP			PROPERTY TAX COST OF BONDS If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

Box Elder County Treasurer Vote for One	Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to have the office of county sheriff be elected by voters?	If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

Box Elder County Recorder Vote for One  <input type="radio"/> CHAD MONTGOMERY REP			Constitutional Amendment B  Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to increase the limit on the annual distributions from the State School Fund to public schools from 4% to 5% of the fund?  <input type="radio"/> FOR <input type="radio"/> AGAINST	PROPERTY TAX COST OF BONDS If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

Box Elder County Treasurer Vote for One	Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to have the office of county sheriff be elected by voters?	If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

Box Elder County Recorder Vote for One  <input type="radio"/> CHAD MONTGOMERY REP			PROPERTY TAX COST OF BONDS If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. Box Elder County Treasurer Vote for One	Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to have the office of county sheriff be elected by voters?	If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

Box Elder County Treasurer Vote for One <input type="radio"/> SHAUN RONALD THORNLEY REP	Constitutional Amendment C Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to have the office of county sheriff be elected by voters?	Shall the Board of Education of Box Elder School District, Utah, be authorized to issue general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $220,000,000 and to mature in no more than twenty one (21) years from the date or dates of issuance of such bonds for the purpose of raising money for constructing buildings, acquiring land and furnishings and remodeling and updating existing school property, under the charge of the Board, and, to the extent necessary, for providing moneys for the refunding, at or prior to the maturity thereof, of general obligation bonds of the Board authorized hereunder or heretofore issued and now outstanding?
Judicial Retention	Constitutional Amendment D Should the Utah Constitution be changed to strengthen the initiative process by:	PROPERTY TAX COST OF BONDS If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.

The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. Box Elder County Assessor Vote for One	Constitutional Amendment A	OFFICIAL BALLOT FOR THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF BOX ELDER SCHOOL DISTRICT, UTAH
<input type="radio"/> KORY L. WILDE REP	Shall the Utah Constitution be amended to allow income tax money to be used for all state needs and prioritize public education funding for changes in enrollment and inflation? If this amendment is approved, state statute will eliminate the state sales tax on food.  <input type="radio"/> FOR <input type="radio"/> AGAINST	LOCAL SPECIAL BOND ELECTION
Box Elder County Recorder Vote for One		Shall the Board of Education of Box Elder School District, Utah, be authorized to issue general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $220,000,000 and to mature in no more than twenty one (21) years from the date or dates of issuance of such bonds for the purpose of raising money for constructing buildings, acquiring land and furnishings and remodeling and updating existing school property, under the charge of the Board, and, to the extent necessary, for providing moneys for the refunding, at or prior to the maturity thereof, of general obligation bonds of the Board authorized hereunder or heretofore issued and now outstanding?
<input type="radio"/> CHAD MONTGOMERY REP		PROPERTY TAX COST OF BONDS If the bonds are issued as planned, without regard to the taxes currently levied to pay outstanding bonds that will decrease over time, an annual property tax to pay debt service on the proposed bonds will be required over a period of 20 years in the estimated amount of $347.67 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and in the estimated amount of $632.13 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $28.97 per month on the primary residence and $52.68 per month on a business or secondary residence. The Board currently levies property taxes to pay debt service on other outstanding general obligation bonds that have been issued to finance voter approved projects. The incremental property taxes would decrease upon the repayment of the currently outstanding bonds, but the decrease will not occur if the proposed bonds are issued. Taking into account the repayment of the outstanding bonds, the Board expects that the issuance of the proposed bonds, in the manner currently expected, will result in an estimated tax increase in the amount of approximately $238.27 per year on a primary residence with the District average value of $450,000 and of approximately $433.23 per year on a business or secondary residence having the same value, which is equal to $19.86 per month on the primary residence and $36.10 per month on a business or secondary residence. The foregoing is only an estimate and is not a limit on the amount of taxes that the governing body may be required to levy in order to pay debt service on the bonds. The governing body is obligated to levy taxes to the extent provided by law in order to pay the bonds.
